Introducing the Short Certificate Course by Indian College of Physicians

The Indian College of Physicians (ICP) is pleased to announce the launch of a pioneering program - the Short Certificate Course. This initiative aims to bridge the gap in basic medical education for postgraduate doctors.

The Need for the Program

During my interactions with postgraduate students, I realized that despite their excellence in theoretical and practical studies, they often lacked a solid foundation in the basics of internal medicine. This is particularly true for students from new medical colleges, where resources and facilities may be limited.

Program Highlights

- Expert faculty: We have handpicked the best teachers in their fields to lead the program.
- Target audience: The course is designed for postgraduate doctors, resident physicians, and doctors working in rural areas.
- Comprehensive curriculum: The program covers seven chapters of internal medicine, with daily one-hour classes.
- Assessment and certification: Students can take an examination after completing nearly 20 classes, and successful candidates will receive a certificate from the Indian College of Physicians.

Program Update

The Short Certificate Course has been well-received, with over 1,200+ candidates currently enrolled. The program is gaining popularity, and we are committed to its continued success.

Conclusion

The Short Certificate Course is a significant step towards addressing the educational needs of postgraduate doctors. We are proud to offer this program and look forward to its positive impact on the medical community.
